NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTIONFOR LEAVE TO FILE THIRD AMENDED COMPLAINT

1 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on October 31, 2013, at 1:30 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the 2 matter may be heard, Plaintiff Department of Fair Employment and Housing (“DFEH”) will, and 3 hereby does, move for an order granting DFEH leave to file its Third Amended Complaint for 4 Damages and Injunctive Relief.

POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO AMENDINTRODUCTION

5 Pursuant to Rule 15 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and the Court’s Case
 6 Management and Pre-Trial Order for Jury Trial (“Case Management Order”), DFEH seeks leave to 7 file a Third Amended Complaint which (1) adds a timely cause of action for violation of California
 8 Education Code section 99161.5, and (2) revises language in the Complaint consistent with the 9 Court’s April 22, 2013 Order Granting Plaintiff DFEH’s Motion to Proceed for Group or Class
 10 Relief, Dkt. 136. A true and correct copy of the proposed Third Amended Complaint is attached as 11 Exhibit 1 to the Declaration of Mari Mayeda in Support of DFEH’s Motion for Leave to File Third
 12 Amended Complaint. DFEH’s Third Amended Complaint is timely, made in good faith, and does 13 not prejudice Defendant Law School Admission Council, Inc. (“LSAC”). Moreover, the Court
 14 should grant DFEH’s Motion because:

- 15 (1) LSAC does not oppose this Motion;
- 16 (2) The Court largely disposed of all arguments against amendment when it granted Legal 17 Aid Society–Employment Law Center’s (“LAS-ELC”) request to add a cause of action
 18 under section 99161.5 of the California Education Code, Order re LAS-ELC’s Mot. Am.
 19 4:26-9:28, April 19, 2013, Dkt. 135; and
- 20 (3) The additional language regarding the interests of DFEH in this case and its authority to 21 proceed for group or class relief is fully discussed in this Court’s April 22, 2013 Order and 22 the amendment simply seeks to add language consistent with that ruling. Order Granting 23 DFEH Mot. Group/Class Relief 13:3-15:12, Dkt. 136. DFEH has additionally changed

1 the phrase “reasonable accommodation” or “accommodation” to the more accurate phrase
 2 “testing accommodation” throughout.

3 STATEMENT OF FACTS

4 DFEH filed its Complaint against LSAC on March 15, 2012 in Alameda County Superior
 5 Court, alleging that LSAC engages in a pattern or practice of discrimination against disabled test
 6 takers of the Law School Admissions Test. LSAC removed the case to federal court under both 7 federal question and diversity grounds. Notice of Removal, Dkt. 1. The Complaint, brought on 8 behalf of 16—originally 17—real parties in interest and other similarly situated test takers, alleges 9 that LSAC discriminated against these test takers by imposing upon them onerous application and 10 documentation requirements, denying them reasonable accommodation, “flagging” or annotating the 11 test scores of disabled test takers who received an accommodation of extra time, providing those test 12 takers with different and less desirable score reports, and failing to explain the reasons for denial in 13 writing.

14 On February 6, 2013, the Court granted DFEH leave to file its First Amended Complaint to 15 extend the time period defining covered victims of discrimination, replacing “February 6, 2012” with 16 the phrase “to the present” to reflect the continuing nature of the defendant’s illegal conduct. Order
 17 Granting DFEH’s Mot. to File First Am. Compl., Dkt. 103. On March 27, 2013, the Court granted
 18 DFEH’s Unopposed Motion for Leave to File a Second Amended Complaint, which deleted
 19 Plaintiff’s Doe allegations and added to the prayer for relief a request for attorneys’ fees and costs.

21 A. Section 99161.5 of the California Education Code Became Effective and this Court
 22 Previously Allowed Plaintiff-Intervenors to Add It to Their Complaint

23 On January 1, 2013, section 99161.5 of the California Education Code became effective. It
 24 outlaws, inter alia, the practices of “flagging” test scores, failing to grant reasonable
 25 accommodations, and failing to report percentile rankings or score bands for disabled accommodated
 26 test takers. On January 7, 2013, LSAC filed an action in state court against the State of California,
 27 seeking to declare section 99161.5 unconstitutional. Complaint, Law School Admissions Council,

1 Inc. ("LSAC") v. California, No. 34-2013-00135574 (Cal. Super. Ct. Jan. 10, 2013). Although the
 2 Sacramento County Superior Court preliminarily enjoined enforcement of section 99161.5, Order
 3 Granting Mot. Prelim. Inj., LSAC v. California, No. 34-2013-00135574 (Feb. 13, 2013), the court of 4 appeals stayed the injunction and ordered LSAC to comply with the Education Code, directing that 5 “[LSAC] shall not take any action inconsistent with Education Code section 99161.5, subdivision (c)
 6” Order Staying Prelim. Inj. Order, No. C073187 (Cal. Ct. App. March 5, 2013).

7 On April 19, 2013, this Court granted in part LAS-ELC’s Motion to Amend their complaint to 8 allege a cause of action against LSAC under section 99161.5 California Education Code. Order
 9 Granting in Part Motion to Am. Compl. 3:17-4:2, Dkt. 135. The Court examined the factors of undue
 10 delay, prejudice to defendant, futility, bad faith and prior amendments and granted LAS-ELC Motion
 11 to Amend to add a claim for violation of the Education Code via California Business and Professions
 12 Code and Unruh, but denying any claim seeking to give retroactive binding effect to section 99161.5.
 13 Id. at 12:25-27.

14 Discovery in this case has been limited. This Court set an expedited schedule for settlement
 15 related discovery and referred the case for settlement purposes to Magistrate Judge Joseph C. Spero.
 16 Order Referring Case to J. Spero, Dkt. 113; Case Mgmt. Order, Dkt. 129. Thus, discovery has been 17 limited to that which is “tailored and focused to those topics and those sources necessary for 18 meaningful participation in ADR” Jt. Pre-ADR Discovery Plan and Order ¶ B, Dkt. 114. The 19 parties met with Judge Spero on July 9 and August 12, 2013 and are scheduled for a further 20 settlement conference on October 10, 2013. The Court’s April 5, 2013 Case Management Order also 21 set October 31, 2013 as the deadline for filing a motion to amend the pleadings. Case Mgmt. Order ¶

23 B. The Court Recognized DFEH’s Authority to Bring Enforcement Actions Without 24 Complying with Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure

25 On April 22, 2013 the Court held that the Department could proceed in this government
 26 enforcement action without filing a motion under Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

14 Discovery in this case has been limited. This Court set an expedited schedule for settlement
 15 related discovery and referred the case for settlement purposes to Magistrate Judge Joseph C. Spero.
 16 Order Referring Case to J. Spero, Dkt. 113; Case Mgmt. Order, Dkt. 129. Thus, discovery has been

 21 set October 31, 2013 as the deadline for filing a motion to amend the pleadings. Case Mgmt. Order ¶

23 B. The Court Recognized DFEH’s Authority to Bring Enforcement Actions Without
 24 Complying with Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure

25 On April 22, 2013 the Court held that the Department could proceed in this government
 26 enforcement action without filing a motion under Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.
 27 Order re DFEH Mot. Group/Class Relief, Dkt. 136. The Court recognized that, like Title VII, the

1 Fair Employment and Housing Act (“FEHA”) authorizes DFEH to bring “enforcement actions . . .
 2 act[ing] ‘not merely [as] a proxy for the victims of discrimination,’ but also ‘to vindicate the public
 3 interest in preventing [certain forms of] discrimination. [Citation.]’ Id. at 13:9-14. Given its 4 authority to obtain broad relief for discriminatory conduct, this Court concluded that DFEH’s
 5 enforcement suit is not a representative action subject to Rule 23. Id. at 13:21-24. Moreover, the 6 Court held that DFEH’s use of the phrase “class action” in its Complaint is of no moment, id. at 7 16:17, and that “it is clear from [DFEH’s] pleadings that . . . [Rule 23] pleadings were made in the 8 alternative,” id. at 16:14-17:3. Thus, the proposed Third Amended Complaint simply seeks to 9 incorporate the Court’s own holdings and language, from its April 22, 2013 Order, regarding the 10 interests of the State of California and the group or class relief nature of the case.

11 Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 15, DFEH counsel contacted LSAC’s counsel to 12 obtain LSAC’s written consent to the amendments. Mayeda Decl. ¶ 4. On September 25, 2013,
 13 LSAC gave its consent to the amendments, while reserving its rights to raise any defenses to DFEH’s
 14 claims, as amended, and authorized DFEH to represent to the Court that it will not be opposing this 15 Motion. Id. Accordingly, DFEH requests this Court to grant its Motion..

16 ARGUMENT

17 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 15(a)(2) provides that “[t]he court should freely give leave
 18 [to amend] when justice so requires.” See DCD Programs, Ltd. v. Leighton, 833 F.2d 183, 186 (9th 19 Cir. 1987) (providing that leave to amend should be granted with “extreme liberality”). Indeed, a 20 court should only consider denying such a motion when the defendant firmly establishes undue delay,
 21 bad faith, dilatory motive, repeated failure to cure deficiencies with previously allowed amendments,
 22 undue prejudice, and futility. See Foman v. Davis, 371 U.S. 178, 182 (1962); DCD Programs, 833
 23 F.2d at 186; Eminence Capital, LLC v. Aspeon, Inc., 316 F.3d 1048, 1052 (9th Cir. 2003); Cooper
 24 Development Co. v. Employers Insurance of Wausau, 765 F.Supp. 1429, 1432 (N.D. Cal. 1991)
 25 (“Courts have been quite liberal in granting leave to amend”).

26 Absent prejudice, or a strong showing of any of the other Foman factors, a presumption exists
 27 under Rule 15(a) in favor of granting leave to amend. See Eminence Capital, 316 F.3d at 1052; see

1 also Roberts v. Arizona Bd. of Regents, 661 F.2d 796, 798 (9th Cir. 1981) (“Ordinarily, leave to
 2 amend pleadings should be granted regardless of the length of time or delay by the moving party
 3 absent a showing of bad faith by the moving party or prejudice to the opposing party.”). The interests
 4 of justice and judicial economy warrant leave to amend in this case, and none of the factors weighing 5 against it is present.

6 A. There Is No Undue Delay

7 This Motion is timely filed and made without delay. In the proposed Joint Case Management
 8 Statement, the parties agreed to a deadline of December 13, 2013 for parties to seek leave to file
 9 amended pleadings. Second Jt. Case Mgmt. Stmt. 2:21–23, Dkt. 127. The Court amended this 10 deadline on its own motion to October 31, 2013. Case Mgmt. Order ¶ 10, Dkt. 129. DFEH files this 11 motion in advance of the Court’s deadline, therefore, there is no undue delay. See Hofstetter v. Chase
 12 Home Finance, LLC, 751 F.Supp.2d 1116, 1122 (N.D. Cal. 2010) (no undue delay where the motion 13 to amend was filed “before the [established] deadline for pleading amendments”).

14 DFEH cannot be faulted for not adding its Education Code claim earlier. Section 99161.5 of 15 the Education Code was not effective until January of this year. On January 7, 2013 LSAC filed its 16 state court challenge of the Education Code, and the State of California was enjoined from enforcing 17 the provision by the Superior Court’s preliminary injunction. Order Staying Prelim. Inj. Order, No.
 18 C073187 (Cal. Ct. App. March 5, 2013). Although not a party to that litigation, and arguably not 19 bound by that ruling, DFEH could not risk running afoul of the superior court’s preliminary 20 injunction barring enforcement of the Education Code by the State of California. In the months since 21 the state court injunction was stayed, DFEH participated in good faith in the ADR discovery and 22 settlement conferences ordered by this Court. DFEH did not want to jeopardize, or risk running afoul
 23 of the Court’s directions to focus on, ADR discovery and settlement by also litigating a motion to 24 amend the complaint early in the settlement process. Mayeda Decl. ¶ 3.

25 As to the amended language regarding the interest of the state and the clarification of the 26 allegations regarding the class nature of the relief sought: DFEH makes these changes consistent
 27 with the Court’s April 22, 2013 Order Granting DFEH’s Motion to Proceed for Group or Class

1 Relief. As this is DFEH's first amendment to the complaint since that motion was granted, there is 2 no undue delay.

3 B. LSAC Will Not Be Prejudiced by the Amendments

4 LSAC suffers no prejudice should the Court allow DFEH's amendments. Prejudice to the 5 opposing party is the factor "that carries the greatest weight." Eminence Capital, 316 F.3d at 1052.
 6 Prejudice can be established when a motion to amend is made after the cut off date, or when discovery
 7 has closed or is about to close. See, e.g., Zivkovic v. Southern Cal. Edison Co., 302 F.3d 1080, 1087
 8 (9th Cir. 2002). DFEH's Motion is within the deadline set by the court for filing a motion to amend,
 9 and the parties are just emerging from limited ADR discovery. Full discovery has not commenced.
 10 The non-expert discovery cut off is April 25, 2014, several months away, and the dispositive motion
 11 deadline is approximately one year away, on October 30, 2014. Case Mgmt. Order ¶ 5, Dkt. 129.
 12 LSAC will have ample time to propound discovery and investigate the Education Code claim, which 13 overlap with the existing claims in any event.

14 In this case, this Court has already ruled on a similar motion to amend made by Plaintiff-
 15 Intervenors LAS-ELC et al. In granting permission for Plaintiff-Intervenors to amend their complaint
 16 to add causes of action for violations of section 99161.5 of the Education Code, the Court relied on 17 the fact that the Unruh/ADA claims in the existing complaint and the added section 99161.5 claims
 18 cover the same facts and essentially the same allegations. Order re LAS-ELC's Mot. Am. Compl.
 19 7:4-11, Dkt. 135. The same is true as to DFEH's proposed Third Amended Complaint.

20 As LSAC is already being sued in this litigation for violating the Education Code, the issue is 21 already raised in this case. Id. Pursuant to the Court's order, Plaintiff Intervenors filed their First 22 Amended Complaint, adding causes of action for violations of section 99161.5 via section 17200 of 23 the California Business and Professions Code and Unruh Act. LAS-ELC First Am. Compl., Dkt.
 24 137. The same reasoning that supported granting Plaintiff-Intervenors permission to add the 25 Education Code claim applies with equal force to Plaintiff DFEH's Motion to add the Education
 26 Code claim, therefore, the Motion to Amend should be granted.

1 LSAC has been on notice from the beginning as to the scope of the litigation, and that DFEH
 2 was challenging the systemic nature of LSAC's discriminatory conduct. Section 99161.5 of the 3 Education Code addresses the same issues already challenged in the existing Complaint: "flagging"
 4 of test scores, failure to grant reasonable accommodations to disabled students, failure to provide 5 accommodated test takers with score reports which contain score bands and percentile rankings, and 6 failure of LSAC to sufficiently explain the reasons for its denials of accommodation in writing. As a
 7 further demonstration of the lack of prejudice to LSAC, the California legislature itself stated that 8 section 99161.5 "does not constitute a change in, but is declaratory of existing law" and that the 9 statute does "not provide greater protections to persons with disabilities than those provided by 10 Section 51 of the Civil Code." Cal. Educ. Code § 99161.5. As this Court correctly observed when 11 permitting Plaintiff-Intervenors to add claims under the Education Code, section "99161.5 supplies
 12 the legislature's interpretation and clarification of rights under the provision of the Fair Employment 13 and Housing Act which are incorporated into the Unruh Act . . ." Order re LAS-ELC's Mot. Am.
 14 Compl. 9:14-16, Dkt. 135.

15 Given that this litigation is in its relatively early stages and LSAC has consented to the 16 amendments, allowing DFHE to file its Third Amended Complaint does not cause any prejudice to 17 LSAC. Therefore, DFEH requests the Court grant its Motion.

18 C. The Motion Is Made in Good Faith and Amendment Would Not Be Futile

19 DFEH's Motion to Amend is made in good faith. DFEH seeks to amend the Complaint to 20 add a cause of action for violation of the section 99161.5 of the California Education Code, which 21 was not in effect until January 2013. Shortly after section 99161.5 became effective, LSAC
 22 challenged the law in state court and the superior court issued a preliminary injunction. Order
 23 Granting Mot. Prelim. Inj., LSAC v. California, No. 34-2013-00135574 (Cal. Super. Ct. Feb. 13, 24 2013). Once that injunction was dissolved by the court of appeals, Order Staying Prelim. Inj. Order,
 25 No. C073187 (Cal. Ct. App. March 5, 2013), the parties had been ordered into expedited ADR
 26 discovery and settlement with Magistrate Judge Spero. DFEH now seeks to add the Education Code

27

1 claim after the court of appeal sanctioned the enforcement of the provision and the parties have
 2 engaged in good faith settlement discussions and ADR discovery. Mayeda Decl. ¶ 3.

3 This Court previously dispatched previous arguments regarding each of the Foman factors in 4 granting Plaintiff-Intevenors motion to amend their complaint. In opposing that motion to add the 5 Education Code cause of action, LSAC argued that there is no private right of action under section
 6 99161.5. LSAC's Opp. to LAS-ELC's Mot. Am. 3:22-5:21, Dkt 96. Here, however, DFEH brings
 7 this claim, as "an exercise of the police power of the state," Cal. Gov't Code § 12920, in its capacity
 8 as "a public prosecutor testing a public right." Order re DFEH Mot. Group/Class Relief, Dkt. 136.
 9 We invoke the power given to the "head of a department" of the State of California under section
 10 11180 of the California Government Code to "prosecute actions . . . [a]s to all matters relating to . . .
 11 subjects under the jurisdiction of the department." See also id. at 11:9-11 (noting that Government
 12 Code section 11180 authorizes DFEH's director to bring suit); People ex. rel. Dep't of Conservation
 13 v. El Dorado Cnty., 36 Cal.4th 971, 988 (2005).

14 Thus, DFEH has the authority to enforce section 99161.5 of the Education Code through 15 Government Code section 11180. As acknowledged by the Court in this case, DFEH was elevated to 16 the status of a Department in 1980 so that the "consolidated DFEH 'would have the organizational 17 structure necessary to conduct its activities effectively.'" Order re DFEH Mot. Group/Class Relief 18 11:26-12:4, Dkt. 136 (quoting with approval from the legislative history to the 1980 amendments to 19 FEHA). In 1980, FEHA was amended to specify that DFEH had the powers of a department, such as 20 the power to prosecute actions under Government Code section 11180. Id. Government Code
 21 section 12902 (which is part of FEHA) specifically states, "[t]he provisions of Chapter 2
 22 (commencing with Section 11150) of Part 2 apply to the director and the director is the head of a 23 department within the meaning of such chapter."

24 Education Code section 99161.5 is enforceable by DFEH under Government Code section
 25 11180 because that section of the Education Code concerns a subject within or "relating to" a subject
 26 matter over which the Department has jurisdiction. We seek to enforce the Education Code's 27 provisions that outlaw: discrimination in "flagging" test scores, discrimination in denial of

1 reasonable accommodations without explanation, and discriminatory score reporting. Further, the 2 legislature specified that the Education Code “does not constitute a change in, but is declaratory of 3 existing law” and that the statute does “not provide greater protections to persons with disabilities
 4 than those provided by Section 51 of the Civil Code.” Cal. Educ. Code § 99161.5. As this Court 5 correctly observed, section “99161.5 supplies the legislature’s interpretation and clarification of 6 rights under the provision of the Fair Employment and Housing Act which are incorporated into the 7 Unruh Act” Order re LAS-ELC’s Mot. Am. Compl. 9:14-16, Dkt. 135, April 19, 2013. And, of 8 course, both Unruh and FEHA are subjects clearly under the jurisdiction of the Department,
 9 confirming the DFEH’s authority to bring a claim under section 99161.5. Cal. Gov’t Code
 10 § 12930(f), (g), (h).

11 CONCLUSION

12 For the reasons discussed above, and because LSAC does not oppose this Motion, DFEH
 13 respectfully seeks leave of this Court to file the proposed Third Amended Complaint.

1 I, MARI MAYEDA, declare:

2 1. I am an attorney at law duly licensed to practice before all the courts of the State of 3 California, and employed as an Associate Chief Counsel by Plaintiff Department of Fair Employment
 4 and Housing (“DFEH”). In my official capacity, I am assigned to the case captioned above. I have 5 personal knowledge of the above-captioned case, and if called upon to testify, I could do so 6 competently.

7 2. A true and correct copy of the proposed Third Amended Group and Class Action
 8 Complaint for Damages and Injunctive Relief (“Third Amended Complaint”) is attached to this 9 Declaration as Exhibit 1.

10 3. DFEH did not delay in adding its Education Code claims to this lawsuit. After the 11 section 99161.5’s effective date, LSAC was granted a preliminary injunction enjoining enforcement
 12 of the provision, which was subsequently stayed by the court of appeal. Following the reviewing 13 court’s order, the parties were directed by this Court to focus on ADR discovery and settlement
 14 negotiations, and DFEH did not want to contravene this directive or jeopardize early settlement 15 discussions by also litigating a motion to amend simultaneously.

16 4. Pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 15, DFEH counsel contacted LSAC’s
 17 counsel to obtain LSAC’s written consent to DFEH’s amendments to its Complaint. On September 18 25, 2013, LSAC consented to the filing of the Third Amended Complaint, reserving its right to raise 19 any and all claims and defenses to the pleading, as amended, and authorized DFEH to represent to 20 this Court that it will not be opposing this Motion. A stipulation consenting to the filing of the Third
 21 Amended Complaint, signed by all parties, is filed concurrently herewith.

22
 23 I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct, and that this 24 declaration was signed in Berkeley, California, on September 26, 2013.

1 Plaintiff DEPARTMENT OF FAIR EMPLOYMENT AND HOUSING (Department or 2 DFEH) alleges the following against defendant LAW SCHOOL ADMISSION COUNCIL, INC.
 3 (LSAC), a Delaware tax exempt corporation:

4 PARTIES

5 1. DFEH is the state agency charged with enforcing the right of all Californians under 6 the Unruh Civil Rights Act (Unruh Act) (Cal. Civ. Code §§ 51 et seq.) “to the full and equal 7 accommodations, advantages, facilities, privileges, or services in all business establishments of every 8 kind whatsoever.” Cal. Civ. Code § 51 (a) (West 2013). Government Code section 12948 makes a
 9 violation of the Unruh Act a violation of the Fair Housing and Employment Act (FEHA) Cal. Gov’t
 10 Code §§ 12900 et seq. (West 2013). The FEHA empowers the DFEH to investigate and prosecute
 11 Unruh Act claims within the state, including those that adversely affect, in a similar manner, a group
 12 or class. Cal. Gov’t Code §§ 12961, 12965. The Government Code authorizes DFEH to prosecute
 13 actions in state and federal court. Cal. Gov’t Code §§ 12930(h), 11180.

14 A. California’s public policy against discrimination on the basis of disability is 15 “substantial and fundamental.” City of Moorpark v. Super. Ct. of Ventura 16 Cnty., 18 Cal. 4th 1143, 1161 (1998); see also Cal. Civ. Code § 51 (“All 17 persons within the jurisdiction of this state are free and equal, and no matter
 18 their . . . disability, medical condition . . . are entitled to the full and equal 19 accommodations . . . or services in all business establishments of every kind
 20 whatsoever”); Cal. Gov’t Code § 12920 (“It is hereby declared as the public 21 policy of this state that it is necessary to protect and safeguard the right and 22 opportunity of all persons to seek, obtain, and hold employment without 23 discrimination or abridgement on account of . . . physical disability [or] mental 24 disability[.]”); Cal. Gov’t Code § 12921.9 (“The opportunity to seek, obtain and 25 hold employment without discrimination because of . . . physical disability [or] 26 mental disability . . . is hereby recognized as and declared to be a civil right.”).

Similarly, the ADA provides a mandate for “the elimination of bias against individuals with disabilities.”) 42 U.S.C. § 12101.

- B. DFEH commenced this suit as an exercise of the police power, based on its determination that defendant, Law School Admission Council (LSAC) engaged in discrimination on the basis of disability.
- C. DFEH acts as a public prosecutor testing a public right. The interest of DFEH in the law school admissions process was articulately summarized by the United States Supreme Court:

In order to cultivate a set of leaders with legitimacy in the eyes of the citizenry, it is necessary that the path to leadership be visibly open to talented and qualified individuals . . . All members of our heterogeneous society must have confidence in the openness and integrity of the educational institutions that provide this training. As we have recognized, law schools “cannot be effective in isolation from the individuals and institutions with which the law interacts.” Access to legal education (and thus the legal profession) must be inclusive of [all] talented and qualified individuals . . . so that all members of our heterogeneous society may participate in the educational institutions that provide the training and education necessary to succeed in America. Grutter v. Bollinger, 539 U.S. 306, 333 (citations omitted).

D. The LSAT is required for admission to any ABA accredited law school. The State of California, through the DFEH, has an interest in ensuring that gateways to education and employment are open to individuals with disabilities. The State of California also has an interest in eliminating bias and enhancing diversity in the legal profession, and in furtherance of this interest, the testing process for entry into law school should not be an obstacle to the

1 full and equal participation of individuals with disabilities in the legal 2 profession. Ensuring that law school admissions reflect the diversity of our 3 society not only affects students with disabilities, but also their would-be 4 classmates who benefit from the presence of those perspectives in the 5 classroom. The legal profession as a whole, and the society which it serves,
 6 stands to be negatively affected by practices that result in the unfair exclusion
 7 of individuals with disabilities.

8
 9 2. Each real party in interest, John Doe, Jane Doe, Peter Roe, Raymond Banks, Kevin 10 Collins, Rodney Decomo-Schmitt, Elizabeth Hennessey-Severson, Otilia Ioan, Alex Johnson, 11 Nicholas Jones, Caroline Lee, Andrew Quan, Stephen Semos, Gazelle Taleshpour, Kevin Vielbaum,
 12 and Austin Whitney, applied to LSAC for testing accommodations¹ on the Law School Admissions
 13 Test (LSAT) between January 19, 2009 and the present. Each real party was denied a testing
 14 accommodation, either in whole or in part, within this same time frame. At the time of applying for 15 testing accommodations, each real party resided in California.

16 3. Real parties in interest John Doe, Jane Doe, and Peter Roe wish to participate in this 17 litigation anonymously. Each real party seeks to retain their privacy interest in the details of their 18 disability and need for testing accommodation. Each of these real parties has expressed a legitimate 19 fear of negative professional ramifications should their true names be associated with this litigation.
 20 A motion requesting the court's permission to proceed under fictitious names for these two real 21 parties is filed concurrently with this complaint.

22

23

24

25 1 The Third Amended Complaint substitutes the common term 'testing accommodation' for the 26 technical phrase 'modification, accommodation, or auxiliary aid or service.' Both terms denote those 27 modifications, accommodations, or auxiliary aids or services that a testing entity must provide in order to make an examination accessible to people with disabilities under the ADA. 42 U.S.C. §
 12189; 28 U.S.C. § 36.309.

4. At all times relevant to this complaint, LSAC was a business establishment as defined by Civil Code section 51, subdivision (b). LSAC offers and administers its LSAT at multiple locations in the State of California several times a year.

GROUP RELIEF ALLEGATIONS

5. The DFEH brings this case on behalf of a group of 16 named individuals.

CLASS RELIEF AND IN THE ALTERNATIVE CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

6. Class Definition: The DFEH may bring a government enforcement action for group or class relief without meeting the requirements for class certification. The DFEH brings this case for class wide relief and in the alternative as a class action, on behalf of: all disabled individuals in the State of California who requested a testing accommodation for the Law School Admission Test (LSAT) from January 19, 2009 to the present. The DFEH alleges that everyone within this class was subjected to LSAC's unlawful policies, patterns, or practices of discouraging requests for testing accommodation, requiring excessive documentation, and requesting unlawful information about mitigation measures. Within this class is a subclass of people who took the LSAT with the condition of extended time and were thereafter subjected to unlawful policies or practices of discriminatory treatment and retaliation because of this testing accommodation. These two classes are defined as follows:

a. Unlawful Discouragement and Consideration of Mitigation Measures: All disabled individuals in the State of California who requested a testing accommodation for the LSAT from January 19, 2009 to the present.

b. Differential Treatment and Retaliation Against Examinees Granted Extended Time: All disabled individuals in the State of California who took the LSAT with the testing accommodation of extra time from January 19, 2009 to the present.

7. Class Representative: The DFEH may bring a government enforcement action seeking relief for a group or class of persons without being certified as the class representative. In the alternative, this lawsuit meets the criteria for class certification. The Director of the DFEH, with the assistance of the 16 named real parties in interest, will fairly and adequately represent the class.

1 8. Manageability: The DFEH may bring a government enforcement action seeking relief
2 for a group or class of persons without meeting the requirements for class certification. In the 3 alternative, class treatment of this dispute would save time and money by bringing all like claims
4 before this court. For LSAC policies that affect a large group of applicants in a similar fashion, such 5 as subjecting applicants to unlawful inquiries and flagging certain scores, treatment as a class is a 6 superior method of adjudication, as compared to multiple individual suits where each plaintiff would 7 allege an identical harm. Class treatment would neatly aggregate these claims, preventing duplicative
8 litigation and potential inconsistencies in the ultimate findings.

9 9. Numerosity: The DFEH may bring a government enforcement action without meeting
10 the requirements for class certification. In the alternative, the class is estimated to include hundreds of 11 LSAT applicants. It would be impracticable to join each of these applicants who requested testing 12 accommodation during the three-year time frame and to bring them individually before the court for 13 adjudication. The members of this class are fully ascertainable and there exists a probability that the 14 individual members will ultimately be available to come forward to prove their separate damage-15 related claims to a portion of the total class recovery, if any.

16 10. Commonality: The DFEH may bring a government enforcement action without 17 meeting the requirements for class certification. In the alternative, there exists for the class a well-18 defined community of interest such that common questions of both law and fact predominate over 19 individual interests or claims.

20 11. Typicality: The DFEH may bring a government enforcement action without meeting
21 the requirements for class certification. In the alternative, class claims raised by the real parties in 22 interest are typical of those held by other members of the class. Each applicant for testing
23 accommodation was subject to an unlawful inquiry about mitigation measures, and each test-taker,
24 who was granted extra time, had his or her test score segregated and flagged.

25 12. Adequacy of Representation: The DFEH may bring a government enforcement
26 action without meeting the requirements for class certification. In the alternative, with the assistance
27

1 of the real parties in interest, the DEFH will fairly and adequately represent the interests of all
2 members of the class in the adjudication of their similar legal claims.

3 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

4 13. The DFEH realleges and incorporates by reference each and every allegation
5 contained in paragraphs 1 through 12, inclusive, as if fully set forth herein.

6 14. This action arises under the FEHA, specifically Government Code section 12948,
7 which incorporates the Unruh Act into the enforcement structure of the FEHA, giving the DFEH
8 jurisdiction over Unruh Act violations occurring within the state. By virtue of its incorporation into 9 the Unruh Act, a violation of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) (42 U.S.C. §§ 10 12101 et seq.) also constitutes a violation of the Unruh Act. Cal. Civ. Code § 51(f).

11 15. At all times relevant to this complaint, LSAC was a business establishment as defined
12 by Civil Code section 51, subdivision (b). LSAC offers and administers its LSAT at multiple 13 locations in the State of California several times a year.

14 16. At all times relevant to this complaint, real parties in interest John Doe, Jane Doe,
15 Peter Roe, Raymond Banks, Kevin Collins, Rodney Decomo-Schmitt, Elizabeth Hennessey-
16 Severson, Otilia Ioan, Alex Johnson, Nicholas Jones, Caroline Lee, Andrew Quan, Stephen Semos, 17 Gazelle Taleshpour, Kevin Vielbaum, Austin Whitney, and all other similarly situated individuals, 18 were "persons" within the meaning of Government Code section 12925, subdivision (d), and Civil 19 Code section 51, subdivision (b).

20 17. On May 9, 2010, Jane Doe filed a verified complaint of discrimination in writing with 21 the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC unlawfully denied 22 her full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation of the FEHA and 23 Unruh Act. A redacted copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 1.

24 18. On January 12, 2010, Nicholas Jones filed a verified complaint of discrimination in
25 writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC
26 unlawfully denied him full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation

1 of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit
2 2.

3 19. After receiving the complaints of Jane Doe and Mr. Jones, and beginning an 4 investigation into their allegations, the Department came to believe that LSAC's policies and 5 practices toward disabled applicants requesting testing accommodation were affecting a larger group
6 or class of applicants in a similar manner.

7 20. On July 22, 2010, the Department issued a document entitled "Notice of Class Action
8 Complaint and Director's Complaint" describing the affected group or class as "all disabled
9 individuals in the State of California who have or will request a testing accommodation for the Law
10 School Admission Test (LSAT), administered by the LSAC, and who have or will be unlawfully
11 denied such request from January 19, 2009 to the conclusion of the Department's investigation of this 12 complaint." A redacted copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 3.

13 21. During its investigation of the class action and Director's complaint, the DFEH
14 propounded administrative discovery to determine whether other people had been harmed by LSAC's 15 discriminatory practices within the state. The DFEH's efforts to obtain this information from 16 defendant included the filing of a superior court petition to compel LSAC to respond to its discovery
17 requests. Although Government Code section 12960, subdivision (d), provides that the DFEH has 18 one year from the date of the filing of its complaint until the filing of its accusation, this time is 19 extended by the pendency of a court action to enforce administrative discovery. Cal. Gov't Code §
20 12963.5(f). Therefore, this action is timely filed.

21 22. With the court's assistance, the DFEH was able to discover and notify other persons 22 who were harmed by defendant's discriminatory practices, to wit:

23 A. While applicants with disabilities may seek testing accommodations on the LSAT,
24 LSAT's policies, practices or procedures impose restrictions that are inconsistent
25 with the ADA, FEHA and Unruh;

26

27

- B. Under LSAC's policies, practices or procedures, applicants with disabilities must complete and submit an extensive portfolio of current and historical materials including medical and/or psychological documentation by a stated deadline;
- C. Depending on the applicant's disability, individuals are also required to complete additional forms and medical reports. Then, even after so doing, LSAC requires even further additional documentation or medical reports.
- D. LSAC's burdensome documentation requests "may cost [a test taker] over $3,000, a cost that bars low-income individuals from access." Assembly Third Reading, AB 2122 (2011-2012);
- E. LSAC's policies or practices are so burdensome that some applicants have had to secure legal counsel in pursuit of their testing accommodation request;
- F. When LSAC grants applicants the testing accommodation of extended time, it specially marks or "flags" the test scores as having been taken under non-standard conditions and advises law schools to "[c]arefully evaluate LSAT scores earned under accommodated or nonstandard conditions." See LSAC's Cautionary Policies Concerning LSAT Scores and Related Services (Rev. 2005). LSAC segregates all such test scores so that when it submits scores to law schools, it does not report a percentile ranking for those applicants.

Some of the people harmed by LSAC's policies or practices elected to file individual complaints as follows.

23. On August 29, 2011, Alex Johnson filed a verified complaint of discrimination in writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC unlawfully denied him full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 4.

24. On August 31, 2011, John Doe filed a verified complaint of discrimination in writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC unlawfully

1 denied him full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation of the
2 FEHA and Unruh Act. A redacted copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 5.

3 25. On September 26, 2011, Elizabeth Hennessey-Severson filed a verified complaint of 4 discrimination in writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging
5 that LSAC unlawfully denied her full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in 6 violation of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as 7 Exhibit 6.

8 26. On October 3, 2011, Caroline Lee filed a verified complaint of discrimination in
9 writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC
10 unlawfully denied her full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation
11 of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 12 7.

13 27. On October 6, 2011, Raymond Banks filed a verified complaint of discrimination in
14 writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC
15 unlawfully denied him full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation
16 of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 17 8.

18 28. On October 7, 2011, Gazelle Taleshpour filed a verified complaint of discrimination in
19 writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC
20 unlawfully denied her full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation
21 of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 22 9.

23 29. On October 11, 2011, Peter Roe filed a verified complaint of discrimination in writing
24 with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC unlawfully
25 denied him full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation of the 26 FEHA and Unruh Act. A redacted copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 10.

1 30. On October 11, 2011, Stephen Semos filed a verified complaint of discrimination in
2 writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC
3 unlawfully denied him full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation
4 of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 5 11.

6 31. On October 14, 2011, Rodney DeComo-Schmitt filed a verified complaint of
7 discrimination in writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging
8 that LSAC unlawfully denied him full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year,
9 in violation of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto
10 as Exhibit 12.

11 32. On October 17, 2011, Andrew Grossman filed a verified complaint of discrimination
12 in writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC
13 unlawfully denied him full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation
14 of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit
15 13. Andrew Grossman directly entered into a settlement agreement with LSAC. The DFEH is not a 16 party to the settlement agreement between Andrew Grossman and LSAC.

17 33. On October 19, 2011, Kevin Collins filed a verified complaint of discrimination in
18 writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC
19 unlawfully denied him full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation
20 of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 21 14.

22 34. On October 24, 2011, Otilia Ioan filed a verified complaint of discrimination in
23 writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC
24 unlawfully denied her full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation
25 of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 26 15.

27

1 35. On October 28, 2011, Andrew Quan filed a verified complaint of discrimination in
2 writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC
3 unlawfully denied him full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation
4 of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 5 16.

6 36. On October 28, 2011, Austin Whitney filed a verified complaint of discrimination in
7 writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC
8 unlawfully denied him full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation
9 of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 10 17.

11 37. On November 7, 2011, Kevin Vielbaum filed a verified complaint of discrimination in
12 writing with the Department pursuant to Government Code section 12960, alleging that LSAC
13 unlawfully denied him full and equal access to the LSAT within the preceding one year, in violation
14 of the FEHA and Unruh Act. A true and correct copy of this complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 15 18.

16 38. On February 6, 2012, the DFEH issued a Group and Class Accusation before the 17 California Fair Employment and Housing Commission (Commission), charging LSAC with 18 violations of the Unruh Act. The Group and Class Accusation was properly served on LSAC by 19 certified mail.

20 39. On February 17, 2012, the DFEH issued a First Amended Group and Class Accusation
21 before the Commission. This accusation was properly served on the LSAC by certified mail.

22 40. Pursuant to Government Code section 12965, subdivision (c)(1), LSAC elected to 23 have this dispute heard in civil court in lieu of a hearing before the Commission, and so notified the 24 Department in writing, on or about February 22, 2012. A true and correct copy of "Respondent's 25 Notice of Transfer of Proceedings to Court" is attached hereto as Exhibit 19.

26 41. The Department has withdrawn its accusation and timely filed a civil complaint in 27 Alameda County Superior Court pursuant to Government Code section 12965, subdivision (c)(2).

1 A. LSAC removed this case to the United States District Court, Northern District of 2 California on April 12, 2012 on both federal question and diversity grounds.
3 Docket No. 1.

4 B. DFEH sought and received leave to amend and file a First Amended Complaint,
5 deemed filed February 6, 2013. DFEH sought and received leave to amend to file a
6 Second Amended Complaint, filed March 27, 2013.

7 42. The harm that is the subject of this complaint occurred throughout the State of 8 California. Three of the real parties in interest lived in the County of Alameda at the time that they 9 were denied full and equal accommodations in the testing process.

10 43. The amount of damages sought by this complaint exceeds the minimum jurisdictional 11 limits of this court, and is estimated to exceed $5 million.

12 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

13 The Law School Admissions Test (LSAT)

14 44. The LSAT is a half-day, standardized test administered four times each year at 15 designated testing centers throughout the State of California. It purports to provide a standard 16 measure of acquired reading and verbal reasoning skills that law schools use to assess applicants.
17 Applicants to all ABA accredited law schools are required to take the LSAT in order to be eligible for 18 admission to law school.

19 45. The test consists of five 35-minute sections of multiple-choice questions. A 35-minute
20 writing sample is administered at the end of the test. Defendant does not score the writing sample, but 21 sends it on to the law schools with the scores.

22 46. The LSAT is designed to measure reading and comprehension skills, the ability to 23 organize and manage information, and analytical skills such as evaluation and criticism.

24 47. The three multiple-choice question types in the LSAT are labeled reading 25 comprehension, analytical reasoning, and logical reasoning. All candidates take one additional 26 multiple-choice section, which is experimental.

27 LSAC Business within the State

48. LSAC offers and administers its LSAT at multiple locations in the State of California four times a year, typically at law schools and universities. Applicants pay a test registration fee of $139 after creating an online account and filling out the online application form. Additional fees charged by LSAC include $68 for late registration and $35 to change the test date.

49. LSAC pays local proctors to administer the exam on site. LSAC also pays for accommodations at the site, such as readers or scribes.

50. LSAC offers a Credential Assembly Service to law schools and law school applicants, which streamlines the law school admission process by allowing transcripts, recommendations and evaluations to be sent one time to LSAC. LSAC, in turn, summarizes and combines a law school applicant's LSAT score, writing samples, transcripts, recommendations, and evaluations into a report to an applicant's prospective law schools. The Credential Assembly Service also includes access through an applicant's LSAC account to electronic applications for all ABA-approved law schools. Applicants are charged $124 to register for the Credential Assembly Service and $16 for law school reports.

51. LSAC provides a series of LSAT preparatory guides, manuals and compilations of sample LSATs for purchase via its Web site, which materials range in price from $8 to $39.96. LSAC also sells a guide to ABA-approved law schools for $26 and a skill readiness inventory for $29.95.

The LSAC Accommodation Request Process

52. LSAC requires candidates requesting a testing accommodation to utilize its standard forms and procedures. Applicants making a testing accommodation request for a so-called cognitive or psychological impairment are required to provide psychoeducational/ neuropsychological testing and a full diagnostic report, including comprehensive aptitude and achievement testing.

53. LSAC requires each applicant to disclose whether he or she took prescribed medication during the evaluation process and to provide an explanation for any failure or refusal to take the medication.

54. LSAC has a policy whereby examinees who complete the LSAT under a disability-related testing accommodation involving additional test time receive a notation on their score report

1 indicating that their exam scores were earned under non-standard time conditions. When reporting
2 these LSAT scores to the law schools, defendant advises the schools that these examinees' scores
3 "should be interpreted with great sensitivity and flexibility."

4 55. In addition, scores from tests taken under extended time conditions are not averaged 5 with other scores to produce a percentile ranking as are other test scores. Instead, extended time
6 scores are reported individually.

7 John Doe

8 56. John Doe, a resident of Rancho Santa Fe (San Diego County), requested that 9 defendant make testing accommodations for the December 2010 LSAT at Saddleback College.

10 57. Mr. Doe was diagnosed with attention deficit disorder (ADD) at age 13. In addition, in 11 2010 he became extremely ill with a bacterial infection and was hospitalized for approximately two 12 months, spending several weeks in the Intensive Care Unit in a medically-induced coma. During this 13 illness he suffered a severe brain edema, which left him with residual neurological impairments.

14 58. Mr. Doe requested time and a half (150 percent) on the multiple choice and writing
15 sections for the December 2010 LSAT.

16 59. In support of his request, Mr. Doe submitted medical documentation verifying his 17 hospitalization, and a complete psychoeducational assessment, which reported multiple diagnoses:
18 ADD, a learning disability (spelling), and a "[r]ecent bacterial infection with sustained induced coma 19 and residual impairments."

20 60. LSAC refused to grant Mr. Doe's requested accommodation and instead asked for "a 21 detailed explanation regarding the nature, severity, treatment, and extent of [his] disorder at the 22 present time and it [sic] impact on your ability to take the LSAT."

23 61. Mr. Doe then submitted additional medical documentation indicating that he had 24 "suffered a serious illness and developed marked weaknesses and encephalopathy. He continues to 25 have fatigability and impaired concentration." His doctor recommended that Mr. Doe be granted
26 increased time to complete the LSAT.

62. LSAC then demanded that Mr. Doe's psychologist provide "a current update of [his] cognitive status" before making a decision on his testing accommodation request.

63. Mr. Doe and his doctor disputed the need for an updated psychoeducational assessment just three months after the first report was completed. His doctor responded, "I would reiterate that Mr. Doe's intelligence is much as it was when he was originally seen (10/26/10) and with IQ scores as noted in that report, all within the average range with the exception of Processing Speed (4th percentile)."

64. LSAC granted Mr. Doe nine additional minutes for the multiple choice and writing sample sections (125 percent), with an additional 15 minutes of break time between sections three and four, for the February and June 2011 LSAT.

Jane Doe

65. Jane Doe, a resident of Oakland (Alameda County), requested that defendant provide her with testing accommodations on each of two administrations of the LSAT examination, one in February 2010 and a second in June 2010.

66. Ms. Doe has attention deficit disorder (ADD). Her condition makes it difficult to retain attention and focus, and significantly impairs her ability to conceptually organize and sequence abstract ideas.

67. Ms. Doe requested that LSAC accommodate her with time and a half (150 percent) on the multiple choice and writing sample sections of the LSAT.

68. In support of her request, Ms. Doe submitted medical documentation, verification that she had received the testing accommodation of time and a half (150 percent) as an undergraduate university student, and proof that she had received extended time (150 percent) on the Graduate Record Exam (GRE).

69. On January 15, 2010, LSAC denied Ms. Doe's testing accommodation requests, explaining that her documentation did not demonstrate that she had a disability, which affected her ability to take the LSAT.

1 70. Ms. Doe reapplied for testing accommodations on the June 2010 LSAT, requesting the 2 same testing accommodation of time and a half (150 percent) on the multiple choice and writing
3 sample sections.

4 71. LSAC also denied this request. When Ms. Doe asked for an explanation for the denial,
5 defendant replied in writing that it was “not obligated to provide accommodations that are not 6 warranted or supported by the documentation.”

Peter Roe

8 72. Peter Roe, a resident of San Jose (Santa Clara County), requested that defendant make 9 testing accommodations for the September 2009 LSAT at California State University, East Bay.

73. Mr. Roe has reading and math disorders, characterized by impaired auditory attention span and low visuomotor processing speed. These learning disorders substantially impact his ability to process written material, particularly under timed conditions.

13 74. Mr. Roe requested 20 extra minutes for the multiple choice sections and 30 extra
14 minutes for the writing sample section of the LSAT. He also requested a reader and permission to use 15 a computer dictation program.

16 75. In support of his request, Mr. Roe submitted a neuropsychological evaluation
17 documenting his learning disabilities.

18 76. LSAC denied Mr. Roe any testing accommodation, noting that he had neglected to 19 submit a “timed reading comprehension measure” in conformance with LSAC’s guidelines, he had 20 no history of educational accommodation, and his test results demonstrated an “average range of 21 functioning.”

22 77. Mr. Roe requested reconsideration of LSAC's denial, submitting the results of an 23 additional reading comprehension test that documented Mr. Roe's reading problems and 24 recommended that he receive a testing accommodation of time and a half (150 percent).

25 78. After reconsideration, LSAC stood by its previous decision to deny testing 26 accommodation.

Raymond Banks

1 79. Raymond Banks, a resident of San Francisco (County of San Francisco), requested
2 that defendant make testing accommodations for the February 2011 LSAT at San Francisco State
3 University.

4 80. Mr. Banks had a longstanding and severe injury to his shoulder muscle. As a result of 5 this injury, Banks suffered from nerve damage, carpal tunnel syndrome, and chronic pain, all of 6 which limited his ability to write.

7 81. Mr. Banks requested five additional minutes to complete each multiple-choice test
8 section of the LSAT, 10 additional minutes on the writing sample section, five-minute breaks
9 between each test section, a large table to write on, and permission to wear a splint on his wrist.

10 82. Real party Banks submitted medical documentation in support of his request, as well
11 as proof that he had received accommodation as a student at the University of California, Berkeley 12 for time and a half (150 percent) on all exams and quizzes.

13 83. LSAC denied all of Mr. Banks' requests, other than permitting him to wear a hand
14 splint "as a courtesy." When Mr. Banks asked LSAC for an explanation of the denial, LSAC 15 responded in writing that "[t]he documentation provided did not support your request for the 16 additional accommodations you requested."

Kevin Collins

18 84. Kevin Collins, a resident of Woodland Hills (Los Angeles County), requested that 19 defendant make testing accommodations for the February 2011 LSAT at California State University, 20 Northridge.

85. Mr. Collins suffers from two learning disorders: disorder of written expression and a reading disorder. He has perceptual-organizational impairments, making it significantly more difficult for him to process simple or routine visual material without making errors, as compared to his peers.

25 86. Collins requested the accommodations of double time on multiple choice and writing
26 sample sections of the LSAT, permission to use a computer and printer for the writing sample, and an 27 alternative, non-Scantron answer sheet.

87. In support of his request, Collins submitted proof that he had received time and a half (150 percent) on the GRE and for exams at Claremont Graduate University. He also submitted a full psychoeducational assessment report as requested by LSAC's guidelines.

88. Defendant's first response was to ask for additional information and inform Collins that the deadline had passed for the February 2011 LSAT. Later, after Collins had submitted the requested information and requested consideration for the June exam, defendant granted him the accommodations of time and a half (150 percent) for the multiple choice and writing sample sections, rather than the double time that he had requested. The rest of his requested testing accommodations were granted.

89. Collins asked LSAC to reconsider its decision to deny him double time. LSAC stood by its previous decision that time and a half was appropriate.

Rodney DeComo-Schmitt

90. Rodney DeComo-Schmitt, a resident of Marin County, requested that defendant make testing accommodations for the October 2010 LSAT offered at Sonoma State University.

91. Mr. DeComo-Schmitt suffers from a reading disorder, causing a significant discrepancy between his verbal abilities and his visual-spatial abilities, especially under timed conditions.

92. Mr. DeComo-Schmitt requested time and a half (150 percent) on the multiple-choice sections of the exam, extra rest and break time, and permission to use a computer for the writing sample.

93. In support of his request, Mr. DeComo-Schmitt submitted a thorough psychoeducational assessment and proof that he had received time and a half (150 percent) on his SAT exam.

94. LSAC at first refused to consider Mr. DeComo-Schmitt's request for reconsideration, asserting that it had been submitted past the deadline for the October 2010 exam. Later, LSAC denied any testing accommodation to Mr. DeComo-Schmitt for the December 2010 exam, asserting that the

1 documentation he had submitted did not demonstrate a limitation of a major life activity which 2 affected his ability to take the LSAT.

3 95. Mr. DeComo-Schmitt requested reconsideration of LSAC's decision, submitting a
4 letter from his psychologist contending that LSAC had misinterpreted the psychological testing.

5 96. LSAC stood by its denial of testing accommodation, informing Mr. DeComo-Schmitt
6 that he was registered for the December 2010 LSAT as a standard test taker.

7 Elizabeth Hennessey-Severson

8 97. Elizabeth Hennessey-Severson, a resident of San Francisco (San Francisco County), 9 requested that defendant make testing accommodations for the June 2011 LSAT at University of 10 California, Hastings College of the Law.

11 98. Ms. Hennessey-Severson has reading, written expression and mathematics disorders, 12 and ADHD. These conditions impair her working memory and her ability to plan, organize, and 13 devote sustained attention to language-based tasks, particularly reading.

14 99. Ms. Hennessey-Severson requested that LSAC accommodate her on the LSAT with a 15 minimum of time and a half (150 percent) extra testing time, and by allowing her short breaks of 10 16 to 15 minutes between sections of the exam.

17 100. In support of her request, Ms. Hennessey-Severson submitted psychoeducational
18 assessment reports from 2002 and 2009. She also submitted proof that she had been accommodated
19 with time and a half (150 percent) on the SAT, and while she was a student at Dartmouth College.

20 101. Defendant denied all of Ms. Hennessey-Severson's requests for accommodation,
21 contending that she scored in the "very superior" and "high average" range in her psychoeducational
22 testing, and that her 2002 evaluation noted that she demonstrated a remarkable ability to compensate 23 for her learning disabilities, such that she was able to take honors courses and play high school sports.

24 102. Ms. Hennessey-Severson and her psychologist requested that LSAC reconsider its 25 decision to deny testing accommodation. Her psychologist wrote: "It is my professional opinion 26 based on all available evidence including comprehensive history, diagnostic interview, well
27 established history of early diagnosis, remediation, and later accommodations throughout high school

1 and college, that Ms. Hennessey has a standard learning disability that has a substantial impact on a
2 major life function, namely, her ability to read, write, and calculate efficiently, and that extended time
3 for formal testing is a reasonable accommodation for her disability.”

4 103. After reconsideration, LSAC stood by its prior decision to deny Ms. Hennessey-
5 Severson any testing accommodation.

6 Otilia Ioan

7 104. Otilia Ioan, a resident of San Jose (Santa Clara County), requested testing
8 accommodation for the December 2010 LSAT offered at Santa Clara University.

9 105. Ms. Ioan is quadriplegic. She is paralyzed in all four limbs and is unable to physically 10 write without using a brace.

11 106. Ms. Ioan requested that LSAC provide her with double time on all sections of the test,
12 an alternate answer sheet, the use of a scribe, and an additional break of 30 minutes between sections
13 3 and 4 of the test.

14 107. In support of her request, Ms. Ioan submitted verification that she had received the 15 testing accommodation of double time on tests while a student at De Anza College, and double time
16 when taking the GRE.

17 108. LSAC asked Ms. Ioan to submit additional information from her doctor before it could 18 consider her request for testing accommodation. LSAC wrote: “Your evaluator needs to provide 19 detailed information regarding the nature, extent, severity, and treatment of your disorder and its 20 functional limitation on your ability to take the LSAT.”

21 109. Ms. Ioan’s doctor supplied the additional information that LSAC requested.

22 110. Ms. Ioan wrote to LSAC requesting reconsideration of its decision to deny her double 23 testing time. LSAC stood by its previous decision.

24 Alex Johnson

25 111. Alex Johnson, a resident of Lake San Marcos (San Diego County), requested testing
26 accommodations for the October 2010 LSAT offered at the University of Southern California.

112. Mr. Johnson is quadriplegic. He is unable to write or turn pages because his fingers are paralyzed. He is unable to draw diagrams, underline text, or use a standard Scantron answer sheet.

113. Mr. Johnson requested 15 minutes of extra break time between each section of the LSAT, and 120 additional minutes (more than triple time) on the multiple choice and writing sample sections.

114. In support of his request, Mr. Johnson submitted medical documentation of his condition and need for testing accommodation, as well as verification from the University of Southern California that he had received double time on his exams while a student there.

115. At first, LSAC refused to consider Mr. Johnson's accommodation request, because he was not registered to take the LSAT. Later, it granted Mr. Johnson time and a half (150 percent) on the multiple choice and writing sample sections, and 10 minutes of break time between each section. It agreed to provide Mr. Johnson with a scribe, and permitted him to use a computer for the writing sample.

116. Mr. Johnson requested that LSAC reconsider his request for double time. His doctor wrote, "Double time is the least amount of time I should be allocated. It is also very hard to use a scribe because of time limitations."

117. LSAC responded that it did not offer an untimed test, and that the documentation submitted did not support Johnson's request.

Nicholas Jones

118. Nicholas Jones, a resident of Palm Desert (Riverside County), requested that defendant provide him with a testing accommodation for the December 2009 LSAT offered at the University of Laverne (Ontario).

119. Mr. Jones suffers from two distinct eye conditions. First, he has amblyopia or “lazy eye” in his left eye, which impairs his visual processing. Second, he has posterior vitreous detachments in his right eye, meaning that he has persistent floaters or spots, which obstruct his field of vision. These conditions together impair Mr. Jones’ reading speed and ability.

120. Mr. Jones requested time and a half (150 percent) on the multiple choice and writing sample sections of the exam and five-minute breaks between each section.

121. In support of his request, Mr. Jones submitted medical forms filled out by his doctor, an eye specialist.

122. LSAC refused to provide any accommodation to Mr. Jones, informing him that “[t]he documentation provided did not reflect an impairment related to taking the Law School Admission Test.”

123. Mr. Jones requested that LSAC reconsider its decision denying him testing accommodations, and asked it to provide further explanation. Mr. Jones' doctor wrote a letter supporting his request for reconsideration, asserting that Jones' eye condition "substantially limits him in at least one major life activity, reading."

124. After reconsideration, defendant stood by its prior decision to deny testing accommodation.

Caroline Lee

125. Caroline Lee, a resident of Oakland (Alameda County), requested that defendant make testing accommodations for the December 2010 LSAT offered in the City of Oakland.

126. Ms. Lee suffers from ADHD and a reading disorder, causing her reading to be labored and excessively slow, and impairing her short-term memory.

127. Ms. Lee requested time and a half (150 percent) on the LSAT multiple choice and writing sample, as well as extended breaks during the exam, a quiet testing environment, and the use of a laptop to compose all written work.

128. In support of her request, Ms. Lee submitted proof that she had received extended testing time of 150 percent while a student at City College of San Francisco (CCSF) and that she had taken the SAT and ACT with testing accommodations. She also submitted a psychoeducational assessment that had been performed while she was a student at CCSF.

129. LSAC replied in writing to Ms. Lee that she needed to submit additional documentation in order for her request to be considered, asking for: "testing results and a full

1 diagnostic report from a comprehensive up-to-date psychoeducational/neuropsychological assessment
2 that comply with the Law School Admissions Council, Inc. Guidelines for Documentation of
3 Cognitive Impairments.”

4 130. Ms. Lee then obtained and submitted a full psychoeducational evaluation in February
5 2011, which documented her ADHD and reading disorder. Her psychologist recommended that she 6 receive 150 percent extended time, as well as the other previously requested accommodations.

7 131. LSAC then requested that Ms. Lee submit several additional documents and reports.
8 Ms. Lee did so.

9 132. In April 2011, defendant denied all of Ms. Lee’s requested testing accommodations,
10 informing her that: her performance on academic measures was commensurate with her ability,
11 negating a finding of impairment; her documentation failed to support the diagnosis of an attention
12 disorder; and her request for additional time on the writing sample was not considered because her 13 psychologist had not administered the right tests.

14 133. Ms. Lee requested that LSAC reconsider its denial of accommodation. This request
15 was accompanied by a letter from her psychologist, who contended that LSAC had misinterpreted the 16 psychoeducational assessment.

17 134. After reconsideration, LSAC stood by its initial decision to deny testing
18 accommodations.

19
20 Andrew Quan

21 135. Andrew Quan, a resident of Hayward (Alameda County), requested testing
22 accommodation for the October 2011 LSAT offered at the University of California, Santa Cruz.

23 136. Mr. Quan has ADHD, a visual-motor integration deficit with slow processing speed, 24 hypotonia, and dysgraphia.

25 137. Mr. Quan requested that LSAC provide him with the accommodations of double time
26 on the multiple choice and writing sample portions of the exam, 10-minute breaks between each 27 section of the test, and the use of a computer for the writing sample.

1 138. In support of his request, Mr. Quan submitted to LSAC proof that he had been
2 accommodated with the use of a computer on his ACT exams. He also submitted a 2008
3 psychoeducational assessment from high school, showing that Mr. Quan suffered from “significant
4 deficits in visual-motor integration and fine motor skills.” Included within that assessment was a
5 2008 IEP documenting dysgraphia, attention deficit, visual processing, and sensory motor skills
6 disorders which qualified him for special educational services, the use of a laptop computer, a scribe,
7 and extra examination time.

8 139. LSAC requested that Mr. Quan provide further documentation to support his request, 9 including “testing results and a full diagnostic report from a comprehensive up-to-date
10 psychoeducational/neuropsychological assessment that comply with [LSAC Guidelines].”

11 140. Mr. Quan contested LSAC's need for additional documentation, asserting that it was 12 unnecessary, unaffordable, and burdensome.

13 141. LSAC responded that if Mr. Quan wanted any testing accommodation in the future, he 14 would need to submit “substantive documentation to support your request for your 15 hypotonia/dysgraphia disorders.”

Stephen Semos

17 142. Stephen Semos, a resident of Rancho Palos Verdes (Los Angeles County), requested
18 that defendant make testing accommodations for the December 2010 LSAT at Whittier Law School
19 (Costa Mesa).

143. Mr. Semos has ADHD and dysgraphia, which significantly impair his reading, writing, organization, and general academic performance.

144. Mr. Semos requested time and a half (150 percent) on both the multiple-choice and writing sample portions of the exam, additional break time of five to eight minutes.

145. In support of his request, Mr. Semos submitted proof that he had received: testing accommodations on the SAT; an IEP from the Palos Verdes Peninsula Unified School District identifying Mr. Semos as learning disabled; a letter verifying that he had received accommodations

1 while a student at the University of California, Irvine, of time and a half (150 percent) on tests; and a 2 complete psychoeducational assessment by his doctor, a neuropsychologist.

3 146. LSAC's first response was to ask Mr. Semos to provide additional documentation in 4 order to consider his testing accommodation request, including a full report of two particular tests for 5 cognitive disabilities, the Nelson-Denny Reading Test (NDRT) and the Conner's Continuous
6 Performance Test-II. LSAC also informed Mr. Semos that the deadline for the December 2010 LSAT
7 had passed, but that he could request accommodation for future exams.

8 147. Mr. Semos then submitted his documentation for the February 2011 LSAT.

9 148. In response, LSAC denied all of Mr. Semos' requests for testing accommodation on 10 the basis that his test scores were generally commensurate with his abilities and thus did not 11 demonstrate a learning disability.

12 149. Mr. Semos' neuropsychologist requested that LSAC reconsider its denial. Mr. Semos'
13 doctor wrote: "Your denial letter written to Mr. Semos selectively highlighted the above average 14 scores and thereby masked the patterns of deficits in processing speed and fine motor speed noted in 15 my neuropsychological report."

16 150. LSAC responded that the letter from Mr. Semos' neuropsychologist had arrived too
17 late to be considered for the February 2011 LSAT. LSAC wrote: "You remain registered to test as a 18 standard test taker. No accommodations have been granted."

19 Gazelle Taleshpour

20 151. Gazelle Taleshpour, a resident of San Diego (San Diego County), requested that 21 defendant make testing accommodations for the October 2010 LSAT offered at the University of San 22 Diego.

23 152. Ms. Taleshpour has ADHD. She also suffers from osteopenia (bone loss) and chronic 24 pain in her neck and back as a result of treatment she had received for leukemia, a bone marrow
25 transplant, radiation, and chemotherapy.

1 153. Ms. Taleshpour requested that LSAC accommodate her with 30 extra minutes on the 2 multiple choice and writing sample portions of the exam, breaks of two to five minutes every half
3 hour so that she could stretch and alleviate pain, a high table, and a comfortable chair.

4 154. In support of her request, Ms. Taleshpour submitted documentation from her treating 5 medical doctor, her chiropractor, and her psychologist. She also provided LSAC with verification that 6 she had received time and a half (150 percent) on all tests and exams while a student at the University
7 of San Diego.

8 155. LSAC requested that Ms. Taleshpour provide additional documentation in support of 9 her testing accommodation request, including “[t]esting results and a full diagnostic report from a 10 psychoeducational/neuropsychological assessment that comply with Guidelines for Documentation of 11 Cognitive Impairments.”

12 156. Ms. Taleshpour obtained and submitted the additional documentation that LSAC
13 requested. Her psychiatrist performed a full psychoeducational assessment, which diagnosed her with 14 ADHD, a reading disorder, and a learning disability (dyslexia). Her psychiatrist supported Ms.
15 Taleshpour’s request for double time and other testing accommodations.

16 157. LSAC only partially granted Ms. Taleshpour’s request for testing accommodation, 17 allowing her to sit or stand at a podium while taking the exam, and to bring a seat cushion or an 18 adjustable chair.

19 158. Ms. Taleshpour then resubmitted a request for accommodation for the December 2010
20 LSAT: double time on multiple choice and writing sample; an alternate, non-Scantron answer sheet;
21 use of a reader; an additional 15 minutes of rest time; and 15-minute breaks between sections.

22 159. LSAC denied the request for additional accommodations beyond the two it had 23 already granted, explaining to Ms. Taleshpour that her intelligence test scores were average and 24 commensurate with her ability, meaning that no cognitive disability was apparent.

25 160. Ms. Taleshpour requested that LSAC reconsider its denial of testing accommodation
26 for extra time. Her psychologist supported the reconsideration request, contending that LSAC failed
27 to recognize significant discrepancies in her reading speed and comprehension. “These significant

1 difficulties provide psychometric evidence of the presence of a Learning Disability as described by 2 the ADA," he wrote.

3 161. LSAC stood by its prior decision to limit the testing accommodations made for Ms.
4 Taleshpour: permission to sit or stand with a podium and to bring a seat cushion or an adjustable 5 chair.

6 Kevin Vielbaum

7 162. Kevin Vielbaum, a resident of San Mateo (San Mateo County), requested that 8 defendant make testing accommodations for him in taking the June 2011 LSAT at the University of 9 California, Hastings College of the Law.

10 163. Mr. Vielbaum has a reading disorder (dyslexia), characterized by a significant 11 difficulties with perceptual reasoning, working memory, and cognitive processing speed.

12 164. Mr. Vielbaum requested that defendant accommodate him with time and a half (150 13 percent) on the multiple choice section of the LSAT, double time on the writing sample, and 14 permission to use a computer for the writing sample.

15 165. In support of his request, Mr. Vielbaum submitted extensive records from his primary 16 education at a special school for students with dyslexia, where he was granted accommodations of 17 extended time and the use of a laptop and calculator.

18 166. LSAC granted Mr. Vielbaum only the accommodation of using a computer, printer
19 and spell check for the writing sample. LSAC denied the accommodation of extra time, noting that 20 Mr. Vielbaum had not requested accommodation on the SAT, and that he had scored well on the tests
21 involved in his psychoeducational assessment. Defendant went on to explain that: "[y]our evaluator 22 notes you have difficulties with logical reasoning. Inasmuch as the Law School Admission Test is 23 designed to measure these skills, the testing accommodations requested (extended time on all 24 examinations that involve the solving of logic problems), would not be appropriate."

25 Austin Whitney

26 167. Austin Whitney, a resident of Contra Costa County, first requested testing
27 accommodations for the September 2009 LSAT offered at San Diego State University.

1 168. Mr. Whitney is paraplegic due to a spinal cord injury in 2007.

2 169. Mr. Whitney requested that defendant accommodate his disability with time and a half
3 (150 percent) on the multiple choice and writing sample sections of the LSAT, and a wheelchair
4 accessible testing location.

5 170. In support of his request, Mr. Whitney submitted medical records pertaining to his 6 2007 injury, verification from the University of California at Berkeley that he had received time and a
7 half (150 percent) for all exams and quizzes during his undergraduate studies, and a form filled out
8 by his doctor indicating that, because of his injury and surgeries, he suffered from "severe chronic 9 pain and radiating radicular nerve pain" for which Whitney took prescription medication that caused 10 drowsiness.

11 171. LSAC responded that Mr. Whitney's request for testing accommodation had been 12 submitted too late for the September 2009 test, and therefore he was registered as a standard test 13 taker.

14 172. Mr. Whitney next requested testing accommodations for the June 2010 LSAT offered
15 in Berkeley at the California Ballroom. This time he requested that LSAC accommodate him with 16 five- minute breaks between sections, in addition to providing time and a half (150 percent) on the 17 multiple choice and writing sample sections and a wheelchair accessible testing site.

18 173. In support of this request, Mr. Whitney submitted medical forms from four different
19 doctors, each of whom supported his need for extra testing time. Dr. Larry Snyder explained:
20 "Patient has significant fatigue due to medications taken for previous spinal injury - this will affect 21 his performance in TIMED conditions." Dr. Carol Jessop wrote that, due to Mr. Whitney's spinal 22 cord injury with chronic, nueropathic pain, he needed extra time to compensate for the effects of the 23 pain medication which cause fatigue. Dr. Jessop explained: "This is a significant problem for Austin
24 Whitney as he is taking medications . . . that cause him to be sleepy and fatigued. This drowsiness
25 makes him slower in his response to test questions. If an exam has a time limit, he will definitely 26 need extra time to complete it."

1 174. LSAC then granted Mr. Whitney the extra break time that he requested, and agreed to 2 provide a wheelchair accessible testing site, but denied his request for extra testing time. "If you
3 choose to have your cognitive disorder (alluded to by Carol Jessop, MD) considered," defendant 4 wrote, "you must provide a current psychoeducational/neuropsychological assessment or 5 neuropsychological evaluation as per our Guidelines for Documentation of Cognitive Impairments."

6 175. Mr. Whitney asked defendant to reconsider its decision to deny additional testing time,
7 and three of his doctors wrote to LSAC in support of his request.

8 a. Dr. Snyder wrote, "His pain and spasticity are a constant distraction and put 9 him at a significant disadvantage as a test taker. In addition, the medication he is taking causes
10 significant fatigue and makes it difficult to concentrate. The medication side effects do not impair 11 cognition but can slow processing speed. For these reasons, he should be afforded extra time when 12 taking this standardized test."

13 b. Dr. Jessop wrote, "I would like to emphasize that the nature of Mr. Whitney's
14 condition is physiological (pain issues) and NOT cognitive or due to a learning disorder. Our request
15 for extra time on the exam is based solely on physiological effects of chronic, severe neuropathic
16 pain, and the fatiguing side effects of pharmaceutical pain killers. Thus, because he doesn't have a 17 learning disability, I feel strongly that neuropsychological or psychoeducational testing would be 18 irrelevant in his case."

19 c. Dr. Hedelman wrote, "Patient's significant impacts on concentration, reading, 20 writing, ability to attend class is secondary to his unpredictable, severe neuropathic pain and the 21 associated pain management medications. Patient does not have an underlying cognitive impairment 22 requiring neuropsych[ological] testing."

23 176. LSAC refused to reconsider its decision, responding: "We have no objective evidence 24 to support Dr. Carol Jessop, MD's conclusion that your thought processes are not as fast as they 25 could be without medication."

26

177. In 2011, at LSAC's behest, Mr. Whitney was evaluated by a psychologist, who determined that he required double time on examinations due to the effect that his pain medication was having on his cognitive abilities.

178. In response to a second accommodation request by Mr. Whitney with the psychologist's report as supporting documentation, LSAC awarded him 10 additional minutes on each section of the exam. LSAC provided no rationale for denying his request for double time.

FIRST CLASS CAUSE OF ACTION

Unlawful Consideration of Mitigation Measures

(42 U.S.C. § 12102(4)(E)(1)(i)(I))

179. The DFEH realleges and incorporates by reference each and every allegation contained in paragraphs 1 through 178, inclusive, as if fully set forth herein.

180. The ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12102(4)(E)(i)(I), requires that “any determination of whether an impairment substantially limits a major life activity shall be made without regard to the ameliorative effects of mitigating measures such as medication.” The ADA is incorporated into the Unruh Act by Civil Code section 51, subdivision (f).

181. By requiring applicants to take the medication prescribed for their disabilities while being evaluated for testing accommodations or explain their failure or refusal to do so, LSAC violates the rights of class members under the FEHA, Unruh Act, and ADA.

182. As a direct result of the unlawful practices of defendants as alleged herein, class members have incurred out of pocket losses, including test registration fees and medical bills, in an amount to be proven at trial.

183. As a further and direct result of the unlawful practices of defendants as alleged herein, class members have suffered emotional distress, anxiety, lost opportunity, frustration, humiliation, and loss of dignity and self-esteem, in an amount to be proven at trial.

184. Defendants have engaged in, and by their refusal to comply with the law, have demonstrated that they will continue to engage in, the pattern or practice of unlawful discrimination described herein unless and until they are enjoined, pursuant to the police power granted by

1 Government Code sections 12920 and 12920.5, and pursuant to section 12974, from failing or
2 refusing to comply with the mandates of the FEHA, Unruh Act, and the ADA. Unless and until
3 defendants are enjoined from failing or refusing to comply with the mandates of these laws, class
4 members' right to full and equal access to places of public accommodation will continue to be
5 violated. Plaintiff lacks any plain, speedy, adequate remedy at law to prevent such harm, injury and
6 loss, which will continue until the court enjoins the complained of unlawful conduct and grants other
7 affirmative relief as prayed for herein.

8 SECOND CLASS CAUSE OF ACTION

9 Failure to Ensure that Exam Measures Ability Rather than Disability

10 (42 U.S.C. § 12189 and 28 C.F.R. § 36.309)

11 185. The DFEH realleges and incorporates by reference each and every allegation
12 contained in paragraphs 1 through 178, inclusive, as if fully set forth herein.

13 186. The ADA requires that any person offering examinations related to post-secondary 14 education or profession "shall offer such examinations or courses in a place and manner accessible to 15 persons with disabilities." 42 U.S.C. § 12189. Regulations interpreting this section impose an 16 obligation on the entity offering such an examination that "[t]he examination is selected and 17 administered so as to best ensure that, when the examination is administered to an individual with a 18 disability that impairs sensory, manual, or speaking skills, the examination results accurately reflect 19 the individual's aptitude or achievement level or whatever other factor the examination purports to 20 measure, rather than reflecting the individual's impaired sensory, manual, or speaking skills." 28
21 C.F.R. § 36.309.

22 187. By adhering to a blanket policy of annotating scores taken under extended time 23 conditions, defendant is communicating to law schools that it does not know whether or not the 24 applicants' exam results accurately reflect aptitude or achievement. Therefore, LSAC is breaching its 25 duty under the FEHA, Unruh Act, and ADA to ensure that the examination results accurately reflect 26 the individual's aptitude or achievement level. 28 C.F.R. § 36.309(b)(1)(i).

188. As a direct result of the unlawful practices of defendants as alleged herein, class members have incurred out of pocket losses, including test registration fees and medical bills, in an amount to be proven at trial.

189. As a further and direct result of the unlawful practices of defendants as alleged herein, class members have suffered emotional distress, anxiety, lost opportunity, frustration, humiliation, and loss of dignity and self-esteem, in an amount to be proven at trial.

190. Defendants have engaged in, and by their refusal to comply with the law, have demonstrated that they will continue to engage in, the pattern or practice of unlawful discrimination described herein unless and until they are enjoined, pursuant to the police power granted by Government Code sections 12920 and 12920.5, and pursuant to section 12974, from failing or refusing to comply with the mandates of the FEHA, Unruh Act, and the ADA. Unless and until defendants are enjoined from failing or refusing to comply with the mandates of these laws, class members' right to full and equal access to places of public accommodation will continue to be violated. Plaintiff lacks any plain, speedy, adequate remedy at law to prevent such harm, injury and loss, which will continue until the court enjoins the complained of unlawful conduct and grants other affirmative relief as prayed for herein.

THIRD CLASS CAUSE OF ACTION

Coercion, Intimidation, Threats, or Interference with ADA Rights - Flagging

(42 U.S.C. § 12203)

191. The DFEH realleges and incorporates by reference each and every allegation contained in paragraphs 1 through 178, inclusive, as if fully set forth herein.

192. The ADA makes it unlawful to "coerce, intimidate, threaten, or interfere with any individual in the exercise or enjoyment of, or on account of his or her having exercised or enjoyed, any right granted or protected by this Act." 42 U.S.C. § 12203.

193. LSAC's policy of annotating tests scores administered under extended time conditions discourages applicants from seeking such a testing accommodation, and punishes those who receive it, in violation of the FEHA, Unruh Act, and ADA.

194. As a direct result of the unlawful practices of defendants as alleged herein, class members have incurred out of pocket losses, including test registration fees and medical bills, in an amount to be proven at trial.

195. As a further and direct result of the unlawful practices of defendants as alleged herein, class members have suffered emotional distress, anxiety, lost opportunity, frustration, humiliation, and loss of dignity and self-esteem, in an amount to be proven at trial.

196. Defendants have engaged in, and by their refusal to comply with the law, have demonstrated that they will continue to engage in, the pattern or practice of unlawful discrimination described herein unless and until they are enjoined, pursuant to the police power granted by Government Code sections 12920 and 12920.5, and pursuant to section 12974, from failing or refusing to comply with the mandates of the FEHA, Unruh Act, and the ADA. Unless and until defendants are enjoined from failing or refusing to comply with the mandates of these laws, class members' right to full and equal access to places of public accommodation will continue to be violated. Plaintiff lacks any plain, speedy, adequate remedy at law to prevent such harm, injury and loss, which will continue until the court enjoins the complained of unlawful conduct and grants other affirmative relief as prayed for herein.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION – REAL PARTIES IN INTEREST ONLY

Denial of Reasonable Accommodation

(42 U.S.C. § 12189 and 28 C.F.R. § 36.309(b)(1)(iv))

197. The DFEH realleges and incorporates by reference each and every allegation contained in paragraphs 1 through 178, inclusive, as if fully set forth herein.

198. The ADA requires that any person offering examinations related to post-secondary education or profession “shall offer such examinations or courses in a place and manner accessible to persons with disabilities.” 42 U.S.C. § 12189. As part of this duty to make an examination accessible, the regulations require that any documentation requested be “reasonable and limited to the need for the modification, accommodation, or auxiliary aid or service requested.” 28 C.F.R. § 36.309(b)(1)(iv).

1 199. LSAC breached its duty to make the LSAT accessible to people with disabilities by 2 requiring excessive amounts of documentation and denying a testing accommodation to each real
3 party in interest, in violation of the FEHA, Unruh Act, and ADA.

4 200. As a direct result of the unlawful practices of defendants as alleged herein, real parties
5 have incurred out of pocket losses, including test registration fees and medical bills, in an amount to 6 be proven at trial.

7 201. As a further and direct result of the unlawful practices of defendants as alleged herein,
8 real parties have suffered emotional distress, anxiety, lost opportunity, frustration, humiliation, and 9 loss of dignity and self-esteem, in an amount to be proven at trial.

10 202. Defendants have engaged in, and by their refusal to comply with the law, have
11 demonstrated that they will continue to engage in, the pattern or practice of unlawful discrimination
12 described herein unless and until they are enjoined, pursuant to the police power granted by sections 13 12920 and 12920.5, and pursuant to section 12974, from failing or refusing to comply with the 14 mandates of the FEHA, Unruh Act, and the ADA. Unless and until defendants are enjoined from 15 failing or refusing to comply with the mandates of these laws, class members' right to full and equal
16 access to places of public accommodation will continue to be violated. Plaintiff lacks any plain, 17 speedy, adequate remedy at law to prevent such harm, injury and loss, which will continue until the 18 court enjoins the complained of unlawful conduct and grants other affirmative relief as prayed for 19 herein.

20 FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION – REAL PARTIES IN INTEREST ONLY

21 Coercion, Intimidation, Threats, or Interference with ADA Rights

22 (42 U.S.C. § 12203)

23 203. The DFEH realleges and incorporates by reference each and every allegation
24 contained in paragraphs 1 through 178, inclusive, as if fully set forth herein.

25 204. The ADA makes it unlawful to "coerce, intimidate, threaten, or interfere with any 26 individual in the exercise or enjoyment of, or on account of his or her having exercised or enjoyed,
27 any right granted or protected by this Act." 42 U.S.C. § 12203.

1 205. LSAC's policies and patterns of requiring unreasonable types and excessive amounts
2 of documentation to support each testing accommodation request violate the FEHA, Unruh Act, and 3 the ADA, by unlawfully coercing, intimidating, threatening, or interfering with real parties' exercise
4 or enjoyment of their right to reasonable accommodation on the LSAT.

5 206. As a direct result of the unlawful practices of defendants as alleged herein, real parties
6 have incurred out of pocket losses, including test registration fees and medical bills, in an amount to 7 be proven at trial.

8 207. As a further and direct result of the unlawful practices of defendants as alleged herein,
9 real parties have suffered emotional distress, anxiety, lost opportunity, frustration, humiliation, and
10 loss of dignity and self-esteem, in an amount to be proven at trial.

11 208. Defendants have engaged in, and by their refusal to comply with the law, have 12 demonstrated that they will continue to engage in, the pattern or practice of unlawful discrimination
13 described herein unless and until they are enjoined, pursuant to the police power granted by 14 Government Code sections 12920 and 12920.5, and pursuant to section 12974, from failing or 15 refusing to comply with the mandates of the FEHA, Unruh Act, and the ADA. Unless and until
16 defendants are enjoined from failing or refusing to comply with the mandates of these laws, class
17 members' right to full and equal access to places of public accommodation will continue to be 18 violated. Plaintiff lacks any plain, speedy, adequate remedy at law to prevent such harm, injury and 19 loss, which will continue until the court enjoins the complained of unlawful conduct and grants other
20 affirmative relief as prayed for herein.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION – GROUP AND CLASS RELIEF

Discrimination on the Basis of Disability in Violation of California Education Code
(Cal. Educ. Code § 99161.5)

209. Plaintiff incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 178 as though fully set forth herein.

1 210. Government Code, section 12902 expressly makes Government Code, 11150 et seq.
2 applicable to the DFEH. Under Government Code, section 11180, the DFEH is authorized to 3 investigate and prosecute actions “relating to … subjects under the jurisdiction of the department.”
4 The activities prohibited by the Education Code, section 99161.5 relate to subjects under the 5 jurisdiction of the DFEH.

6 211. California’s Education Code, section 99161.5(a)(1), states: “The test sponsor of the 7 Law School Admission Test shall provide testing accommodations to a test subject with a disability
8 who makes a timely request to ensure that the Law School Admission Test accurately reflects the 9 aptitude, achievement levels, or other factors that the test purports to measure and does not reflect the 10 test subject’s disability. This paragraph does not constitute a change in, but is declaratory of, existing 11 law.”

12 212. California’s Education Code, section 99161.5, further states that, when determining 13 whether to grant a testing accommodation to the test subject, “the test sponsor of the Law School
14 Admission Test shall, consistent with existing law, give considerable weight to the documentation of 15 past modifications, accommodations, or auxiliary aids or services received by the test subject in 16 similar testing situations[.]” Cal. Educ. Code § 99161.5(b).

17 213. California’s Education Code, section 99161.5, further states that the decision of 18 whether or not to approve a request for a testing accommodation on the LSAT shall be conveyed to 19 the requester within a reasonable amount of time. When a testing accommodation is denied, the test
20 sponsor shall state the reasons for the denial in writing, and shall provide a timely appeals process.
21 Cal. Educ. Code § 99161.5(a)(2), (3).

22 214. California’s Education Code, section 99161.5, further prohibits the practice of 23 “flagging” LSAT scores by prohibiting the test sponsor from “notify[ing] a test score recipient that 24 the score of any test subject was obtained by a subject who received an accommodation pursuant to 25 this section,” or from “withhold[ing] any information that would lead a test score recipient to deduce
26 that a score was earned by a subject who received an accommodation[.]” Cal. Educ. Code § 27 99161.5(c).

1 215. In violation of their rights under the California Education Code, Defendant LSAC
2 imposed upon Real Parties in Interest, and continues to impose on California test takers, onerous and 3 unnecessary documentation requirements to support requests for testing accommodations, and 4 subjected them to arbitrary, ineffective, and unpredictable evaluation and appeals procedure. In 5 violation of their rights under the California Education Code, Defendant LSAC refused to provide
6 Real Parties in Interest with the testing modifications they needed to take the LSAT on an equal basis
7 with other nondisabled test takers. In violation of the rights of Real Parties in Interest and other
8 California test takers under the California Education Code, Defendant LSAC failed to give 9 considerable weight to their documentation of past modifications, accommodations, or auxiliary aids
10 or services received in similar testing situations. In violation of their rights under the California
11 Education Code, Defendant LSAC refused to provide Real Parties in Interest and other California test
12 takers with a test score in an equivalent format as their nondisabled peers.

13 216. In taking the above-described actions and inactions, Defendant LSAC failed to make 14 any good faith effort or attempt to comply with state and federal laws. Defendant LSAC's unlawful 15 actions were intentional, willful, malicious and/or done with reckless disregard to Real Parties in 16 Interests' rights under the California Education Code. As a direct and proximate result of the 17 unlawful acts described herein, Real Parties in Interest have suffered and continue to suffer injuries
18 including emotional injuries.

19 217. Plaintiff DFEH and Real Parties in Interest are entitled to appropriate relief as 20 determined by this Court which may include declaratory relief and/or a civil penalty not to exceed 21 seven hundred fifty dollars ($750) for each violation and/or other appropriate relief.

22

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

24 WHEREFORE, the DFEH prays that the court issue a judgment in favor of the DFEH, real 25 parties in interest, classwide relief, and order defendants to provide the following relief:
26
27

1 AS TO REAL PARTIES IN INTEREST

2 218. Provide free and accommodated testing at the next available testing date in each real 3 party's area, with accommodations as initially requested by that real party;

4 219. Provide a letter to each real party explaining that their LSAT scores used for their law
5 school applications during the relevant period may not have provided accurate measures of their 6 acquired reading and verbal reasoning skills, because LSAC did not provide testing accommodations.

7 CLASSWIDE RELIEF,
8 INCLUDING THE REAL PARTIES IN INTEREST

9 220. Cease and desist from consideration of mitigation measures such as medication when 10 making a determination as to whether an applicant needs a testing accommodation.

11 221. Cease and desist from specially annotating LSAT scores tests scores administered 12 under extended time conditions.

13 222. Include all test scores in the percentile ranking process and provide a ranked percentile
14 to each test taker.

15 223. Immediately undertake a validation study to determine if LSAC scores under 16 accommodation of extra time for cognitive disabilities are an equal measure of aptitude or 17 achievement as compared to non-accommodated scores.

18 224. Reduce to a discrete and reasonable amount the documentation required to verify an 19 applicant's need for a testing accommodation, especially for so-called cognitive disabilities,
20 consistent with the ADA's requirement that such documentation be "reasonable" and Congress'
21 mandate that "the question of whether an individual's impairment is a disability under the ADA 22 should not demand extensive analysis." (28 C.F.R. § 36.309(b)(1)(iv); 42 U.S.C. § 1201 [Pub. L. No.
23 110-325 § 2(b)(5) (Sept. 25, 2008) 122 Stat. 3553].)

24 225. Create a more streamlined and user-friendly process for considering testing
25 accommodation requests, that includes notice to applicants, within a reasonable period of time, 26 whether or not requested testing accommodations have been granted, and provides a fair process for 27 timely reconsideration of any denial of requested testing accommodations.

1 226. Pay actual damages according to proof for each Unruh Act violation up to a maximum 2 of three times the actual damages but in no case less than $4,000 per violation.

3 227. Pay the DFEH's attorneys' fees and costs, pursuant to California Government Code
4 § 12965(b) and California Civil Code § 52(a), in an amount according to proof, plus annual interest,
5 as required by law.

6 228. Provide written proof to the Department of the nature and extent of LSAC's
7 compliance with all requirements of the court's order within 100 days of its effective date.

8 229. Award penalties pursuant to California Education code, section 99161; and,

9 230. Provide such other relief as the Court deems to be just and proper.

THE PARTICULARS ARE:

- I. On or about April 21, 2010, I was denied my reasonable accommodation request for 50% extra testing time when taking my LSAT exam for the Law School Admissions Council which is located at P.O. Box 8512, Newtown, PA 18940.
- II. I believe I was denied my reasonable accommodation request for 50% extra testing time when taking my LSAT exam which is necessary due to my disability (Attention Deficit Disorder) which is a violation Government Code, Section 12948. The Government Code incorporates Section 51 of the Civil Code. My belief is based on the following:
 - A. Corporate Council, Joan Van Tol, was aware of my disability and the granting of my accommodation request for 50% additional testing time for a prior test date. However, after I requested an accommodation for 50% additional testing time for the June 6, 2010 exam, my request was denied.

33 Complainants.

35 TO LAW SCHOOL ADMISSION COUNCIL, INC., 662 Penn Street, Box 40, Newton, 36 Pennsylvania, 18940:

37 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that pursuant to Government Code sections 12960 and 12961, the 38 Director of the DEPARTMENT OF FAIR EMPLOYMENT AND HOUSING (hereinafter "the 39 Department") has determined that the cases listed below will be treated and proceed as a group or 40 class complaint for all purposes, and the Director has issued the following Complaint of 41 Discrimination on behalf of the group or class described below:

1 Case number U-200910-G-0011-00-p, filed by Complainant HAMID MICHAEL HEJAZI
2 against Respondent LAW SCHOOL ADMISSION COUNCIL, INC. on January 19, 2010.

3 Case number U-200910-G-0012-00-p, filed by Complainant NICHOLAS E. JONES against 4 Respondent LAW SCHOOL ADMISSION COUNCIL, INC. on January 21, 2010.

5 Case number U-200910-Q0003-00, filed by Complainant [REDACTED] against 6 Respondent LAW SCHOOL ADMISSION COUNCIL, INC. on May 9, 2010.

7 The Director's determination and issuance is based on the following:

8 1. Complainants HAMID MICHAEL HEJAZI, NICHOLAS E. JONES and [REDACTED]
9 [REDACTED] (hereinafter "Complainants") filed individual verified complaints in writing with the 10 Department on the dates herein indicated alleging that Respondent LAW SCHOOL ADMISSION
11 COUNCIL, INC. (hereinafter "LSAC") engaged in unlawful practices against them which were 12 discriminatory on the basis of disability, in violation of the Fair Employment and Housing Act
13 ("FEHA"), Government Code section 12900, et. seq. and the Unruh Civil Rights Act, Civil Code
14 section 51.

15 2. The Department's investigation revealed that LSAC is a proper respondent for all 16 purposes in this matter.

17 3. The group or class of which the Complainants are members is comprised of all
18 disabled individuals in the State of California who have or will request a reasonable 19 accommodation for the Law School Admission Test ("LSAT"), administered by the LSAC, and 20 who have or will be unlawfully denied such request from January 19, 2009 to the conclusion of the 21 Department's investigation of this complaint.

22 4. There are common questions of law and fact involved which affect the parties to be 23 represented and those persons similarly situated in that during the course of the Department's 24 investigation the Complainants provided and the Department obtained information, which, if 25 proven, indicates that LSAC unlawfully denied or denies disabled individuals reasonable
26 accommodations for the LSAT. Respondent disputes some of these allegations. The Department
27 will continue the investigation to determine the merits of these allegations.

5. The nature of the group or class is such that proof of a single set of facts will establish the right of each member of the group to recover.

6. The Director will fairly and accurately represent the interests of the group or class

THE PARTICULARS ARE:

- I. On or about 9/17/10 I was denied the reasonable accommodation needed to take the LSAT (Law School Admissions Test).
- II. No reason was given for partial denial of my reasonable accommodation and the granting of inadequate/ineffective accommodations.
- III. I believe I was denied reasonable accommodation, which is necessary due to my disability (Quadriplegia), which is a violation of Government Code, Section 12948. The Government Code incorporates Section 51 of the Civil Code. My belief is based on the following:
 - A. On or about 8/5/10 I advised the Accommodated Testing section of my medical need for accommodation in the form of using a computer for all sections of the test, 120 extra minutes on each section of the test, alternate to scantron answer sheet, use of amanuensis (to turn pages), additional rest period and breaks. I also provided supporting medical documentation to confirm the accommodations were medically necessary.
 - B. On or about 9/17/10 I was notified that part of my requested accommodation was being denied. The accommodations that were granted were inadequate and ineffective.
- IV. I am making this complaint on behalf of myself and all other disabled individuals who have been, are now, or will in the future be similarly aggrieved.

Typed and mailed for signature on August 23, 2011.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California that the foregoing is true and correct of my own knowledge except as to matters stated on my information and belief, and as to those matters I believe it to be true.

THE PARTICULARS ARE:

I. On or about 10/31/2010 I was denied the reasonable accommodation of adequate additional time to take the LSAT (Law School Admissions Test) and adequate break periods.

II. No reason was given for partial denial of my reasonable accommodation.

III. I believe I was denied reasonable accommodation in the form of additional test taking time and break periods, which is necessary due to my disabilities (ADD [Attention Deficit Disorder], Lemierre's Syndrome with Brain edema resulting in brain processing speed impairment), which is a violation of Government Code, Section 12948. The Government Code incorporates Section 51 of the Civil Code. My belief is based on the following:

A. On or about early 10/2010 I advised the Accommodated Testing section of my medical need for additional test taking time and break periods. I also provided supporting medical documentation.

B. On or about 10/31/10 I was notified that my requested accommodation was being denied. I was granted in sufficient additional time to take test sections. I was not granted sufficient break period to administer vital medication.

THE PARTICULARS ARE:

- I. On or about 1/18/11 and most recently on 3/14/11 I was denied reasonable accommodation to take the LSAT (Law School Admissions Test).
- II. The denial on 1/18/11 was allegedly due to insufficient documentation. No reason was given for the partial denial of my requested reasonable accommodation on 3/14/11.
- III. I believe I was denied reasonable accommodation which is necessary due to my disabilities (Gifted Learning disability: Reading Disorder and Written Expression Disorder), which is a violation of Government Code, Section 12948. The Government Code incorporates Section 51 of the Civil Code. My belief is based on the following:
 - A. Beginning on or about 12/10/10 I advised the Accommodated Testing section of my medical need for reasonable accommodation. I also provided supporting medical documentation.
 - B. On or about 1/18/11 I was notified that my requested accommodation was not being granted even though I believe that all necessary supporting documentation had been submitted.
 - C. Most recently on 3/14/11 I was notified that part of my requested accommodation was being denied.
- IV. I am making this complaint on behalf of myself and all other disabled individuals who have been, are now, or will in the future be similarly aggrieved.
